1 of 1 review helpful Bravo for a great trip through By GreatBuyer A super history of Houston's prestigious neighborhood It's only flaw is it ends in the late 60s and not through 2013 The homes are much larger built on double lots tear two houses down and building a new 15 000 sq ft mansion But the history is accurate with I seem to remember one error that only one who really knows RO What makes this subdivi In the early 1920s when T W House Jr A C Guthrie and Thomas Ball came to the conclusion that Houston needed a new country club complete with an 18 hole golf course they formed Country Club Estates They chose to build on land called the House tract just west of downtown Very quickly 300 memberships were sold with each including one share of stock in the company Within a year Will and Mike Hogg along with Hugh Potter recognized this as a perfect idea for th About the Author Ann Dunphy Becker is a Houston historian who previously published Images of America Houston 1860 ndash 1900 With the help of longtime resident and businessman George Murray as well as many lifelong River Oaks residents Becker was able to put
